Releasing Potential in Science and Technology

Here's what other scientists have said:

"Beth's background as a scientist is invaluable here as she can relate to the issues that our employees face in their roles and this makes her training very real. Her courses are very highly rated by the attendees, and they really do go on to use what they have learnt in the workplace following the course! Beth is a pleasure to work with – she is very professional, but is friendly, approachable and flexible too." Kathryn Wilkes HR Manager Evotec UK

"Everything about the writing course has been excellent." Didier Danillon AstraZeneca

Everything about the course has been fantastic; particularly dealing with confidence!" Shell

As an intelligence and analysis company we were looking to improve the clarity of report writing. From day one I saw a marked improvement in the readability of reports and speed of writing. People were adamant that the course was brilliant, the teaching style encouraged everyone, regardless of current ability, to recognise and make changes to the way that they write. As an employer, this was a superb investment with a return being felt almost immediately. Thanks to everyone at Stellar Learning for the great service and for exceeding our expectations. Glen Foden, Research and Analysis Department Manager, Allen Vanguard Ltd
